LAND RESOLUTIONS. We have given, on our fourth page, a brief sketch of some remarks delivered in the Senate at the last session of our Legislature, on Col. WAUGH's Resolutions relating to the public domain. From this sketch, it will be seen that Col. W. effectually exposes the partizan character which the whigs so assiduously lobored to give to the land question. Connecting these remarks of Col W. with the fate of his Resolutions, after they got to the House of Commons, where every member in the least tainted with whiggism, voted to reject chem-and the iniquity of the scheme, to turn the whole subject to the advancement of the whig party, becomes the more palpable and certain.

Such was the character of these Resolutions-so expressive of the views of North Carolina on the subject—that they passed the Senate, some of them by an ananimous votes Yet, notwithstanding all this, they were KILLED in the Commons! And the blood of this victim to partizan rancor, stains the hands of every " whig" who was in the House when the deed was done!!

Hon. ISAAC HILL'S SPEECH -We have been favoured with a pamphlet at Hillsborough, 24th ult, -so we are incopy of Mr. Hill's speech, delivered in the Senate of the United States the 12th ult., on the subject of the Abolition petitions .-Mr. Hill takes such a practical and common-sense view of the whole matter, enforcing his arguments by facts, and the strongest chain of reasoning (leaving the regions of fancy to such puff-ball orators as Preston, &c.) that we intend shortly to publish his speech for the benefit of our
